On His way to Jerusalem Jesus healed ten leprous men who pleaded for His mercy. Only one of them, after realizing he had been healed, fell on his face at our Lord's feet and gave Him thanks. This prompted Jesus to ask: "Were there not ten cleansed? But the nine—where are they?" (Luke 17:11-19)

This prayer mobilization is an opportunity for all who have received the grace and blessings of our Lord through the Eucharistic healing ministry of Fr. Jose Maniyangat to express gratitude and be like the thankful leper.

God calls certain people to serve for the good of His Church and then solicits others to assist them. During the battle against the Amalekites God directed Moses to raise his hands in prayer and favored the Israelite warriors only so long as Moses' hands remained outstretched. Eventually Moses grew weary, and God provided Aaron and Hur to prop up his arms, keeping them steady until sunset when He delivered them victory. (Exodus 17:8-15)

The Lord called Father Jose to be an instrument of His abounding Eucharistic healing and He calls on the rest of us to support Father Jose in this endeavor. We do this best when we lift him up in prayer for his protection and good health of body, mind and soul. Collectively prayer warriors can pray "unceasingly," as St. Paul recommends, for God's continued blessings upon this vital ministry.
